Students who wish to attend a different course are advised to take the course “Research Project” - provided their home institution agrees and recognizes it. In this course they will learn how to write a research project (e.g. research paper, research essay or dissertation) and they will write a research essay thereafter in the topic they would wish to study, with the supervision of a specialized faculty member in this field. For example, a student who wishes to attend and recognize a course about Mergers and Acquisitions will develop a research essay about this topic according to the procedure described above.

The Department of Business Administration has the right to postpone any course of this list at any time. The number of the incoming students and their choices will determine practically how many and which exactly courses will be offered. Students are advised to contact the Erasmus Coordinator (Gary Frigidis) before they send their Learning Agreement.
